

VERNON LAKERS' General Manager Vern Dye is flanked by the four Vernon players who helped the Interior Division thump the Coastal Division 14-7, in the annual all-star game this week, in Nanaimo. From left are: Dennis Holland, Doug Spooner, Murray Baron, and Shawn Lafroth. (Daily News Photo)

Enemark on committee to find a new president

Vernon Lakers return to the ice Saturday night, in Merritt, after a week off during the B.C. Junior Hockey League's all-star break.

On Sunday, Lakers host Summerland Buckaroos.

Meanwhile the BCJHL has established a three-man committee to select a new president.

The committee, selected Wednesday, includes Vernon President Carl Enemark. Other members are Don Lancaster of Penticton and Boris Willkromm of Richmond.

Former President Les Jeboult of Vancouver resigned earlier this month following a controversy over the use of ineligible players by several league members.

The BCJHL executive decided to return points previously taken away from Kelowna Packers, Penticton Knights, and Merritt Warriors over use of unregistered players following a ruling by President Bruce Allison of the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association.

In BCJHL play Thursday, Richmond Sockeyes doubled Shuswap Blazers 8-4 and Kelowna dumped Sidney Capitals 8-5.

At Sidney, Shawn Harrison, Carey Fisher and Gary Ruff each scored twice for Kelowna as the Packers led 3-2 and 6-3 at the breaks, but slackened to a 6-5 edge midway through the final period before adding two late goals.

Kevin Harder and Greg Moberg provided singles for Kelowna, second in the Interior Division.